

Target Analytics ResearchPoint™

ResearchPoint combines the industry's best, most comprehensive individual wealth and philanthropic insight to drive results and help grow your mission. Seamlessly integrate constituent data, navigate deeper into each individual's capacity and inclination to give, and access custom-built modeling solutions to identify your best prospects and most likely supporters.

Improving Prospect Research

Easily import existing constituent data directly into the ResearchPoint database to begin building your prospect list. Append new prospects with access to the NOZA database, Target Analytics' pre-matched prospecting database of over 130 million searchable gifts. Find individuals by contact information, geographic location, total wealth, real estate and business property, and philanthropic giving. Build custom research lists to organize and segment individuals prior to evaluation. Uncover each individual's wealth, capacity, hard asset information, likelihood scores and ratings, philanthropic connections, and network of affiliates with shared interests.

With built-in dashboards to analyze results and profile reporting to highlight major gift candidates, prospect research has never been this efficient. Now you can focus on what really matters—engaging and cultivating top-tier prospects.
