

Financial Edge NXT™ for Higher Education Foundations

Your higher education foundation supports its alumni, athletic, research, and development initiatives by acquiring, distributing, and otherwise managing funds. As a foundation team member, you often have crucial financial information that can be difficult to track and review in a meaningful way without a comprehensive solution. The many peripheral programs you administer can create a serious accountability issue when external spreadsheets and inefficient processes are used—resulting in your organization losing face and funding for its programs.

Financial Edge NXT meets the needs of your higher education foundation by giving it the tools needed to effectively manage funds. With the solution, you gain important insight into financial data for better strategic decision making, and you're able to show constituents that your organization is a responsible steward of funds.

Over 6,000 clients trust Blackbaud to manage their accounting needs. Read what some of them have to say.

“Previously, we spent hundreds of hours setting up and constructing budgets in Excel®. We manually reentered our budgets into our General Ledger and making budget adjustments was a difficult process. Personnel budget data was not readily available to key employees. The process of distributing monthly reports took three business days, wasted a lot of paper, and the reports were not easy for managers to use. The implementation process of Financial Edge was excellent. We had a very short turnaround on the process and Advanced Budget Management staff quickly picked up on our issues and needs, and worked with us to design the system accordingly. The process was very smooth.”

—Kate Melvin,
Director of Accounting and Assistant Controller, Indiana University Foundation

“We deal with over 5,000 sub-funds for the Educational and Development Foundations alone. We looked at a lot of different accounting systems to help us manage these, but Blackbaud’s Financial Edge fit our nonprofit fund accounting needs the best. It handles all of our sub-funds beautifully.”

—Russell Meekins,
Executive Director & Chief Executive Officer, University of South Carolina Foundations

“We were able to go live ahead of schedule and under budget — we saw immediate results with Blackbaud products.”

—Jeanne Pecha,
Assistant Vice President of Advancement Services, The Florida State University Foundation
