Help & User Assistance for the Education Management Products

Help Panel
Within the product, in a product persona, access the help panel from the question mark in the top right corner of the user interface. The panel shows a help topic related to where you are in the Education Management products. Use this resource to search for answers while you work.

Platform managers control who can view the help panel. We encourage schools to enable the Help Panel Task for Users or Roles for all school employees.

What’s New
The Education Management products release nifty new features and enhancements approximately every four weeks. Now, the first time you log in after a big update, a “What’s New” topic will automatically appear to help keep you in the know. If you already closed it, manually reopen the “What’s New” topic to read it again.

Remember: It only automatically appears for users with the Help Panel task enabled, who haven’t already seen it since the release went live, and only when they’re on a “product persona” page (like Core > Lists) and not on a “role persona” page (like Faculty > My Day).

TIPS: To undock the help panel (so you can move it to another screen as you work) select .

How-To Center
Use this to access information without even logging in to the Education Management products. It includes a copy of the information from the help panel, plus
- release notes
- hot fix letters
- extra, best practice articles
- information for early adopter programs
- a top navigation menu for easier browsing
- and more

If you use Connect Raiser’s Edge, check out the integration information here.

Training Resources
The old K-12 products’ Training Resources site is no longer available. Most content from this site now lives on the Education Management products’ How-To Center.
